PRESS DICTIONARY

AND

ADVERTISER'S HANDBOOK,

1871.

MR. FREDERICK MAY begs to inform Manufacturers, Merchants, Public Companies, Societies, Solicitors, Auctioneers, and the Public generally, that he will be happy to place at their disposal the advantages of his experience and the special facilities he enjoys for the publication of and Advertisements of every description, so as to ensure as far as possible the most beneficial results for their undertakings.

It is a well-known fact that capital is frequently fruitlessly expended by Advertisers in ignorance of the value, for advertising purposes, of particular journals, a knowledge of the position, influence, circulation, class of supporters, &c., of each medium being of the utmost importance, in order to obtain the most satisfactory success,

Advertisers wishing to bring their announcements under the notice of any particular section of the community, may obtain information as to the value and importance as media of the various representing each individual interest.

The announcements of employers requiring assistance and of persons seeking in any Commercial, Educational, or Domestic capacity, inserted as promptly as possible at moderate rates.

EMPLOYMENT

The annually increasing prosperity of our Indian and Colonial possessions, and the consequently extending demands for articles of home production, should not fail to impress manufacturers with the advisability of placing their announcements in the most conspicuous manner before the eyes of residents abroad.

Favourable opportunities for this purpose are offered by the

INDIAN AND COLONIAL PRESS,

for every organ of which MR. FREDERICK MAY is prepared to receive and transmit advertisements.

All applications should be addressed to the Offices, 9, KING STREET, ST. JAMES'S STREET, S.W.

PREFATORY REMARKS, STATISTICS, &c.

IN the arrangement of the London Press Dictionary the aim of the Compiler has been to provide an authentic Guide to the Press of the Metropolis in a concise and handy form; and to this end, while no item of necessary information is excluded, care has been taken to omit lengthy, verbose and entirely superfluous particulars of no value to the business man, but, on the contrary, a needless tax upon his time.

The contents of the London Press Dictionary are divided as follows :—

1. LONDON NEWSPAPERS.

Under this heading are described all the general, family, and religious newspapers; class and trade organs, mail summaries, commercial and mercantile journals, prices current, &c., classified according to the days upon which they are issued.

2. LONDON PERIODICAL PUBLICATIONS,

Including the magazines, reviews, weekly, monthly, and other periodicals; light, general, religious and miscellaneous publications; the journals and transactions of public societies, &c., &c.

3. PROVINCIAL PUBLICATIONS,

To which reference is made in the Dictionary portion of the work.

4. A DICTIONARY

Of each Interest, Trade, Religious Denomination, Science, &c., represented in the British and Irish Press, with the names of all the representative organs attached to each.

Following the name of each publication will be found its price, publisher, publishing office, political and religious principles, and such information as may be necessary to describe its object or distinguishing characteristics, if containing illustrations, if the representative organ of a society, association, &c., &c.

Whenever the title of the publication conveys a sufficiently clear idea of its nature, as, for instance, The Photographic News, further description is considered unnecessary.

The Political principles are described by the following initials :—L., Liberal; C., Conservative; L.C., Liberal Conservative,—their absence denoting that the publication is neutral or independent in Politics.

As many newspapers are now issued two or three days preceding the date they bear, it has been considered advisable, for practical reasons, to denote as the time of publication the day upon which the newspaper is actually issued, and upon which it can be obtained for despatch by post.

The Dictionary of Interests, Trades, Sciences, Professions, &c., has been designed with a view to the assistance alike of the Advertiser and of the General Reader. As the representative organs attached to each subject contained in this portion of the work include, in addition to the publications of the Metropolitan Press, those of the Provinces, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, the Advertiser finds, without difficulty, a collective list of the media at his disposal, while the General Reader has at the same time a complete Index to the journalistic opinion he may wish to consult.

The Compiler, while returning thanks for the assistance kindly given to him by the Metropolitan Publishers and others, will consider it a favour to receive particulars of new publications as they may appear, and will feel especially obliged for suggestions, information, &c., applicable to the present work.

Annexed are a few particulars of the present condition of the Metropolitan Press.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS.

There are now issued 316 newspapers, published as follows:—

SPECIAL NOTE.—In every case where possible the actual day of issue is given instead of the date printed upon the publication, if that date, as will frequently happen, is in advance, or otherwise, of the day upon which the publication appears. The special and characteristic features of each journal will be found described, except where the title conveys a sufficiently clear idea of the nature of the publication, when, for the sake of conciseness, further description is avoided.

The following initials describe the Political Principals—L.—Liberal; C.—Conservative; L.C.—Liberal Conservative. Their absence will denote that the Publication is neutral or independent in politics.

THE DAILY NEWS,

A HIGH CLASS LIBERAL PAPER,

PRICE ONE PENNY.

SOLD ALL OVER THE KINGDOM.

THE circulation of THE DAILY NEWS has received an extraordinary impetus from the popularity given it by the exceptional merits of its War Intelligence. This great increase in its sale—nearly one hundred per cent.—has continued uninterruptedly; and THE DAILY NEWS being now second to no London Newspaper in its constituency of readers, is unsurpassed as a medium for all classes of Advertisements.

Employers and Servants will find THE DAILY NEWS a most valuable channel in making known their wants to each other.

THE GUARDIAN.

THE GUARDIAN is issued every WEDNESDAY, in time for the night mails, price 6d; by post, 7d.

THE GUARDIAN is supplied, post-free, direct from the Office to Subscribers paying in advance only, at—

| „ Year ... ..      | 1 | 6  | 0 |

Advertisements intended for insertion in the current week's GUARDIAN should be sent to the Office on Monday or early on Tuesday morning, and payment made at the time in cash; postage-stamps may be sent if more convenient to the Advertiser, but at the rate of thirteen to the Shilling. The charge for each insertion is—

|                              |         |
|------------------------------|---------|
| Three Lines ... ..           | 3s. 0d. |
| Every additional Line ... .. | 0s. 9d. |

On an average eight words go to a line. Servants wanting situations are charged only 2s. for the three lines. Notices of Testimonials, Births, Marriages, and Deaths are inserted at 2s. 6d. each for one line, and a shilling for every additional line.

All letters respecting Advertisements and Subscriptions should be addressed, "The Publisher," Guardian Office, 5, Burleigh Street, Strand, W.O.

The average STAMPED circulation of each paper, as shown by the last Government returns, for the year ending June 30, 1870, was as follow:—

COUNTY CHRONICLE & MARK LANE JOURNAL,

ESTABLISHED 1787.

Published twice a Week—Tuesday & Saturday. Price 2d.

It is essentially a Farmer's and Country Gentleman's Paper. It collects the Provincial News of the important and extensive area included within a circle of 50 miles round London. Editions are issued under the following names, supplemented with the special Local News of the respective Counties—

I.—MIDDLESEX COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Office, High Street, Brentford.

II.—HERTFORDSHIRE COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Offices, Fore Street, Hertford; High Street, Watford, and Hitchen.

III.—BEDFORDSHIRE COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Office 1, Mill Street, Bedford.

IV.—BERKS COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Office, 8, West Street, Reading.

V.—BUCKS COUNTY CHRONICLE.

VI.—SURREY COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Offices, The Square, Richmond, and 32, High Street, Guildford.

VII.—HANTS COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Office, High Street, Alton.

VIII.—ESSEX COUNTY CHRONICLE.

County Office, Leytonsdone.

The arrangement of having Distinct County Editions of the County Chronicle was introduced by the present proprietor with the greatest success as EVERY ADVERTISEMENT APPEARS THROUGHOUT THE WHOLE OF THE EDITIONS, and thereby secures not only a wide-spread and effective circulation in the Home and Midland Counties, but, by means of the general edition, a well-diffused publicity throughout the kingdom. The County Chronicle is considered to be the best Market Paper published. It is generally employed for Auctions of Timber in all Counties.

The Stamped circulation of the COUNTY CHRONICLE is over 2,000 copies weekly. The unstamped papers are distributed by agents in every town in the different Counties, and with the PEOPLE'S PENNY EDITION, circulates

TWENTY THOUSAND COPIES PER WEEK.

All Communications to be addressed to the Head Office, 15, Duke St., London Bridge.

The Illustrated Midland News,

THE CHURCH TIMES,

THE LEADING HIGH CHURCH JOURNAL.

NINTH YEAR OF PUBLICATION.

Office—32, LITTLE QUEEN STREET, HOLBORN, LONDON.

CHURCH OPINION.

Rather more than four years ago, CHURCH OPINION was started as an experiment, to see whether there was room for a paper not of a party character—a paper that should represent the OPINIONS of the different sections of "the Holy Church throughout all the world." That experiment has been entirely successful. Among our Subscribers we have men holding high positions both in Church and State; and from the numerous letters we receive from all parts of the world, we believe that our paper is as welcome abroad as at home—perhaps even more so,—as, where there are fewer Church papers, one like ours, giving the cream of all the rest, must be very desirable.

A paper like ours ought to have a LARGE sale. We have endeavoured to do our part to bring about so desirable a result; it rests with our readers to second our efforts. Church affairs are now more important and more prominent than ever. Articles on Church subjects in secular journals are more eagerly read than even political ones. A paper which carefully collects and presents such articles to its readers should therefore be in great demand.

THE GLOBE.

Daily, 1d. Established 1803.

Principles: Conservative. This Paper consistently advocates sound Constitutional doctrine, and gives an independent support to the great Conservative party. It advocates, and has always advocated, an extension of the suffrage to many classes, and all needful reforms. By recent changes in the Press, THE GLOBE, in 1871, will remain well-nigh the only pure Evening Paper, as it was almost the first established. In the News Department great energy is manifested to obtain the latest news. It has always the character of receiving the earliest official intelligence.

Published by W. T. MAGEE, 110, Strand, W.C.

THE PERTSHIRE CONSTITUTIONAL AND JOURNAL,
(ESTABLISHED 1832),

Published every Monday Evening and Thursday Morning,

Is widely read among the Monied Classes generally in the North of Scotland, and it also circulates largely among Southern Sportsmen who visit the Scotch Moors and Rivers. The Constitutional and Journal devotes much attention to FISHING, SHOOTING, DEER-STALKING, HUNTING, CURLING, GOLF, BOWLING, CRICKET, and the other Sports and Pastimes of Scotland; and reliable accounts are from time to time to be found in its columns regarding the state of the RIVERS, MOORS, and DEER FORESTS of the extensive district through which it circulates. It also gives great attention to LITERATURE. From the character and extent of its circulation, it is a valuable means of giving publicity to Advertisements intended to come under the notice of the Purchasing Classes.

All communications may be addressed to the Editor and Proprietor, J. WATSON LYALL, Perthshire Constitutional and Journal Office, Perth.

This journal contains the latest and best information from all ports (home and foreign), and has a circulation larger than the daily and weekly Shipping Papers of the district added together.

The LIVERPOOL TELEGRAPH AND SHIPPING GAZETTE in addition to the current news, contains a List of all the Vessels in the Port of Liverpool, alphabetically arranged in the respective docks, with Tonnage, Names of Captains, Consignees, &c.; Names and Dates of Departure of Vessels from and to Foreign Ports; all the "Homeward-bound Vessels" to Liverpool, London, Queenstown, and Falmouth; List of all Vessels Loading for Foreign Ports; Lloyd's Reports; Ships' Reports; Spoken Vessels; Wrecks; Casualties; Vessels Loading in London; and particulars of ships arriving at and sailing from Liverpool up to Five o'clock on the morning of publication.

The LIVERPOOL TELEGRAPH AND SHIPPING GAZETTE has a more extended COMMERCIAL circulation than that of any other shipping paper published out of London, and is more than double that of any similar paper published in the north of England; consequently Advertisers are guaranteed a publicity for their announcements which no other local shipping journal can give.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.

An advertisement in a newspaper is like a sign-board in a street. It is placed there in each instance to let the public know that such articles of traffic are to be had within the place of business so described. Two considerations, and two only, are to be looked to in both cases. The first has reference to the style of the sign-board, or advertisement; for it is desirable to have it unique and attractive so that it may be as conspicuous to the public eye as possible. The second has reference to its location; shall it be hung out in a principal thoroughfare, or upon a bye-way? Thus one enterprising dealer builds or rents an imposing house upon a crowded street and covers it with decorations and gay signs, at great cost of course. It pays him. He likewise, following up the same line of reasoning, advertises extensively, which is no less expensive. He selects the best location he can get without regard to expenses; he selects the most popular newspaper. To make money according to this principle of business money must be spent. Enterprise cannot stop to count pennies. It has not the time to do so. It can make more by looking after large gains and leaving the lesser items to take care of themselves, as they will do when great profits are made. It takes the prominent avenue of transit, picks the best house on it, and throws in its advertising bill as so many additional AND NECESSARY SIGN BOARDS put before the eyes of the public, the only difference being that THE PUBLIC WILL NOT SEE THE ACTUAL BY IT, WHILE THE METAPHORICAL COLUMNS OF A WIDELY-CIRCULATED PUBLIC, SEES IT OUT, HUNTS IT DOWN AND COMPELS IT TO BE OBSERVANT plus which sagacious commerce sets
